Serverless Architecture Pros And Cons

Learn about the benefits and drawbacks of one of the hottest trends in IT today.

Reduces development times

If you were to ask business leaders their biggest reason for an interest in developing on serverless architectures, more often than not, you'll likely hear that it is due to the promise of significantly reduced development times. Not having to deal with the planning, setup and maintenance of the creation of software, organizational DevOps resources can drop the "ops" and simply focus on the "dev."
